GENERAL INFORMATION

WHOLESALE ONLY. We no longer sell any bulbs at retail, and therefore issue no illustrated catalog or Fall Price List. We are better satisfied to sell at one price only, and we believe the prices quoted here are as low as is consistent with the quality offered.

OUR STOCK. All of our bulbs and bubblets have been Semesan-treated for several seasons. The land on which they were grown is sandy loam, and the bulbs are clean and plump. Of course, they are guaranteed to be true to name.

SUBSTITUTION FOR SIZE. It often happens that we are out of the particular size ordered, especially late in the season, and yet have plenty of another size of the same variety. In many cases the purchaser is just as well satisfied with a size larger or smaller. If this is true of you, please let us know what substitution is permissible, as it may save us both needless correspondence. We will not substitute without permission.

FORCING GLADS. We force from ten thousand to twenty thousand of our own bulbs in our own greenhouses each year. From our own experience, as well as from that of others, we know that our bulbs are very suitable for forcing. We have found Alice Tiplady, Butterboy, Eden, E. J. Shaylor, Herada, Maiden's Blush, Mishawaka, Orienta, Roanoke, Sheila and White Wonder to be excellent forcers. Others which are commonly recommended for forcing are Early Snowflake, Halley, Helga, Mary Pickford, Ming Toy, 1910 Rose, Orange Queen, Salmon Beauty and Wilbrink. We advise the use of first size bulbs only, and planting only after January 15th. We are glad to share our experiences in forcing, by answering questions.

ROADSIDE STANDS. Each year brings an increase in the number of inquiries from roadside stand owners, who have found that it is profitable to grow their own Glads. By choosing a good assortment of varieties, and several sizes of bulbs, it is possible to have Glads in bloom from the first part of July until heavy frosts come in the Fall. This is just the period during which the roadside stand is doing most of its business. Practically all of the varieties we list, being inexpensive ones, and yet ones which have been thoroughly tested, are excellent for this use. We also recommend our Exhibition Mixture as a remarkable source of really first class blooms, which are bound to attract attention.

CANADIAN ORDERS must be accompanied by a Permit number.
